To Whom It May Concern:

I've worked with Michael Roddy as a show director for three shows at Disney's EPCOT in Orlando Florida. Michael has a great talent for story telling through a musical show, and has proven this skill with three of the most successful musical shows to date at Walt Disney World for the American Music Machine attraction at the American Gardens Theatre.

Beyond this success, Michael has proven himself a leader, and the "go to guy" for many other productions in the Walt Disney parks. He is a strong leader who has the ability to equip others produce to the highest of their potential in their specific skill set. I have very much enjoyed my working relationship with Michael, and look forward to many more years of collaboration. I can highly recommend Michael to be a part of any creative or production team.

Sincerely,

Tim Davis
